Re: Tombleson Incorporated

To Whom It May Concern:

Noll & Tam Architects is very pleased to recommend Tombleson, Inc. for their work as general contractors.

Tombleson has served as the general contractor on two projects designed by our firm: the Alumni and Visitor Center at California State University at Monterey Bay, completed in January 2005, and the Marina Library, which celebrated its grand opening in September 2007. On both projects we felt very fortunate to be working with Tombleson.

Tombleson was serious about working with us in a true partnership. Their staff demonstrated skill in project management and worked actively to keep the projects coordinated and on schedule. They cared about the quality of the work, and about meeting the project milestones. The firm always demanded an excellent result both from themselves and their subcontractors. They were also consistently fair and accountable in all their interactions with us and with the building owners.

We highly recommend Tombleson to others, would not hesitate to work with them again, and will encourage them to bid on our projects in the future.

Sincerely,

Christopher Noll, AIA
